FRANK LINDLEY'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE.—The September number of this admirable publication abounds as usual with good things; it is really a "marvel of periodical literature," for the talented Editor, the Rev. Dr. Deane, fills its pages with original and selected matter, not only of unusual merit, but combining in a very remarkable degree, entertainment, instruction and edification. The present number opens with an article by Rev. Theodore L. Fisk, A. M., "The Summer School at Lake Chautauque," which was established with the design to bring about a revolution in the use of methods and means for spreading a knowledge of the Scriptures. An article descriptive of "Country Life in Sweden" is highly interesting, and is admirably illustrated. A new serial story by Mrs. Prosser, commenced, entitled "Michael and Andrew's Freedom," and the beautiful temperance story, "The Mapleton Plan," is concluded. Among the short stories are: "Five in a Fash," by H. H. Christie Anderson; "The League of Graciosa," by Alfred H. Guernsey; "How I Learned Charity" (a story with a moral), by Francis E. Wadleigh; "The Nurse of Jerusalem," translated from the French by the late E. E. Nairne, etc., etc. There are several sketches of peculiar interest. "Schille," "The Thomas Moore and his Daughter," "The Last of the Mount Ararat," "Lady Stranfield," etc., will well repay the reader. "Hours with English Sacred Poets" is continued and there are also some charming poems by Alice Craig, James Montgomery, J. E. H. Bain, T. D. M. S. E. Sells, Mrs. Thorne, Mary Sherman, and others. The editor preaches eloquently from the text, "Jesus said, 'Take ye away the stone'." The number contains 72 quarto pages, and there are over 20 illustrations, portraits, mottoes, etc. It costs 25 cents to publisher, and a specimen copy will be sent. Address, Frank Lindley's Publishing House, 33, 35 and 37 Park Place, New York.

GRAND BLOOD, Sam. M. Dunlap, Esq., was in town yesterday, waiting with his family under the hand of his wife last Monday. He will make the people of Rockcastle an acquaintance of whom they may well feel proud.

WE were delighted to receive a call this week from Miss M. M. Murphy at this city, and Miss J. Anna Burdette, of Lexington, two handsome young ladies, who seemed pleased with an inspection of our office and an insight into the "art" practice of all ages.

LOCAL NEWS.

THE Carpenter House is undergoing some improvements.

WEAVER & EVANS will a good two horse wagon with bed and brake, for $70.

BORN.—To the wife of A. B. Jones, a nine pound boy—A child named Mr. Jones is as smiling as a youthful husband on the event, while his wife is just the happiest woman living.

REVENUE IN.—Judge Lytle requests that those persons who have in their possession either the State or the county guns, to deliver them to him at once.

OUR thanks are due to Mr. S. J. Campbell for the return of a check lost from Stanford and McKinney's. Some one had found it before Mr. Campbell and thinking it was of no value, tore it in several pieces and scattered them along the road.

FELL FROM A WINDOW.—Lacy, a little daughter of Mrs. Fannie White, of Virginia, fell from a second-story window of the Female College building, several days ago, and, strange to say, received no injury whatever. She got up laughing, and has not shown a scratch to remind her of her fearful fall.

TO VOTE MARSHAL.—Our citizens paid a handsome compliment to a worthy young man in electing Smith B. Mereson Town Marshal, and we predict that he will fill the office in a manner more satisfactory than it has been for a number of years. Smith is as true as steel, and will not stand back for any body. Officers had better make a note of this. His majority over S. D. Meyers is 55.

SECURE.—Samuel Messick, a young man of 24, committed suicide at his home on the 24th of last month, near Shelby City, on Wednesday. The reason was done with a pistol, and there is no reason assigned, though a note addressed to a young lady, which was found in his room would indicate that the tender passion had something to do with it. Mr. Messick was in comfortable circumstances, and was a young man of good habits.

WE spent a pleasant hour the other day in going through the extensive store rooms of Hayden Bros. pricing and examining their stocks in the various departments. We must confess our astonishment at the low figures to which their goods have been worked down. Curious to know how it was that articles which cost them more last year than they offer them at now, we asked the reason, and were informed that they had bought for cash, strictly, and wholesale merchants sold them goods at less than first cost. Their customers have the benefit of this state of affairs.

NOT A MARRIAGE.—Last week we announced that Daniel W. Caldwell had obtained license to marry Miss Cynthia Ann Caldwell, on the 5th. Application was made to Mr. Blain, and both parties being of legal age, and there being nothing to the contrary, he issued the necessary papers, but the neighbors of the prospective high contracting parties raised an objection to the marriage on account of the closeness of their kinship, and the father of the young man came to town yesterday and returned the license to the Clerk. The lady is a half sister of the young man's father and an own cousin to his mother.

THE RETURNS.—Only three of the Clerks of the Election favored us with early reports of their respective precincts. Messrs. John O. Neal, Tim W. Higgins and Capt. G. H. McKinney and to them we return our thanks. Some of the other men seemed indifferent whether the returns were made to the County Clerk or not. The Sheriff of the election at Waynesburg, notwithstanding the law requires that the poll books shall be delivered in person to the County Clerk within two days after the election, failed to send his books in till Thursday, and then they came by mail. Men ought to be appointed to such positions who know a little about the law, or else it should be explained to them, if they are not capable of comprehension.

ANOTHER ROCKCASTLE MURDER.—On Monday afternoon, at Pine Hill, B. E. McElroy, was shot and almost instantly killed by Wm. Pendleton. The particulars of the affair we saw in W. C. Sharp's paper, are about as follows: McElroy, who was familiarly known as X, and was at the time under the influence of liquor, was standing in a crowd bragging of his fighting qualities, when Pendleton came up. He was also intoxicated, and imagining that the bragadoise was intended for him, began to dispute with McElroy. Sharp words followed but the disputants finally made up and were about to shake hands and be friends, when McElroy remarked with an oath that he (P.) could not bluff him, and at the same time slapped him in the mouth. They stepped out on the platform and were pushed apart by Mr. Sharp. McElroy with his right hand in his pocket, advanced toward Pendleton, who drew his pistol and shot him through the right breast. McElroy walked off a few steps and dropped dead. Pendleton was subsequently arrested and lodged in jail, where he is now awaiting trial. Murder is becoming exceedingly common in Rockcastle, and the good citizens ought to put down an iron heel on this class of individuals. Unless they do, it will continue to grow till Rockcastle's reputation will be as bad as the most murder-ridden county in the State.

POLICE JUDGE.—Near the close of the exciting race for this office it was suggested that the election had not been held in accordance with the law and that the whole proceedings were therefore null and void. Then to include the possibility of having to hold another election, Judge Carson put the name of J. S. Myers on the regular poll books and voted for him. Mr. Rochester's name was also put on two or three votes were polled, Mr. Myers receiving one majority. We are not sufficiently advised on the subject to express an opinion which election is valid, but there are those that believe Mr. Myers will receive the Commission. A larger number of votes having been cast in the election than ever before, we understand that in the event that the election ordered by the Trustees is valid, Judge Dennis will contest the election, believing that he can throw out enough of his opponents votes to give him the office. A good many of Mr. Rochester's best friends were led to believe that he had been urged to make the race as the candidate of the Republican party, and the fact that its leaders supported him, strengthened the belief. But we are assured by Mr. Rochester and his friends that he would have scorned a proposal from that party had one been made. Judge Dennis has made a most admirable officer, and we would have been glad to have seen him retained in office but we have no misgivings about Mr. Rochester, for he is in every way competent to fill the office, and is a young man of undoubted integrity. Had he given more notice of his candidacy and had every one been assured that there was no trick about his race, he would, no doubt, have been elected without the great efforts that his friends put forth.

BALL.—We learn that a grand ball will be given at Oak Orchard Springs on Friday night, 22nd of this month, for the benefit of the Lee Normal Association. Admission for gentlemen $5.

WILL HAVE TO FORTUNE THE NEXT TIME.—A young man named Ramsey, came to the Clerk's office yesterday and endeavored to procure license to marry an orphan girl under the legal age—but there being no one to give the young lady away, Mr. Blain advised him to wait till a guardian could be appointed for her, or he to some Gretchen Green.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.—The negro George Bryant, mentioned in our issue of last week, charged with attempting to ravish Mrs. Smith, who lives near Piquette, was arrested by Messrs. C. B. and Englemann and brought here for trial, which was held on Saturday last. The evidence against him being sufficient, the Justice held him over to the Circuit Court in $300. Unable to give it, he was sent to jail at Lancaster.

GREAT COMPLAINT is made by our citizens who have gardens that they are unable to get any benefit from them, owing to the nightly depredations on them by the roguish negroes, who idle all day and steal all night. Corn fields are robbed of fruiting ears, and we know of one gentleman who is forced to leave his shot gun and remain all night in his field as long as he can keep awake. We hope his diligence will be rewarded by the carcass of a dead negro.

DEATHS.

LEE—Miss Polly Lee, a sister of Mr. Dickey Lee, aged 70 years, died a few days ago of paralysis.

GREEN—Died, at her home, near Oak Orchard, last Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, Mrs. Rhoda, wife of W. T. Green, Esq., aged 45 years. Her death was congestion of the brain, and her disease was quite sudden. She was a member of the Christian church for a number of years, and death found her ready for the summons. Her funeral was preached by Eld. S. H. King, and her remains interred in the Oak Orchard Cemetery on Tuesday.

RELIGIOUS.

The Christian State Meeting will convene in Lexington, Aug. 27th.

Rev. J. M. Bruce will preach at Hall's Gap church Saturday, at 3 P. M.

Rev. Dr. Archibald will hold services at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday.

Rev. Geo. O. Barnes will preach at the Court-house Sunday next, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Lightning struck and burned a gospel tent in Philadelphia last Sunday. There was one instant death and many persons seriously wounded. Advantage was taken of the occurrence by a reverend gentleman to preach an effective and dramatic sermon.

The Shelby Session says: Father Hugh Daly, of the Catholic Church at Shelbyville, was tried last week upon the charge of lunacy. He insists that the wine he drank at mass was poisoned; that he discovered poison in his apples and powdered glass in his food. Though the trial was in closed court, the recommendation of Bishop McCloskey, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Rev. George O. Barnes, preached in the Court-house last Sunday to a vast audience. His sermon evoked a feeling of deep interest, and at its close a number of persons confessed, and a still larger number went forward to seek forgiveness for special sins. The meeting lasted two hours and a half, but notwithstanding its length, no one seemed tired, but were apparently willing to stay as long longer.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.

Sheep are worth from $1.50 to $2.00 per head in Casey.

Sales of stock hogs were made in Fayette last week at $3.50 to $3.75 per hundred.

The farmers of the Turnersville neighborhood are suffering the loss of numbers of hogs from cholera.

Allen Burnside, of Garrard, bought of Wm. Cleveland, of same county, a lot of fat cattle, averaging 1,500 pounds, at $4.00 per hundred.

A. C. Robinson has for sale, several pure bred Buck Lamb, both Cotswold and Southdown. Apply to him at Gilbert's Creek Station, Lincoln county, Ky.

We note a sale reported in the Peninsula at Oakford of 18 head of 570-pound yearling cattle, by H. W. Middleton, of Wakefield & Black, at $21.50 per head.

At Buffalo Saturday, Harris trotted the best mile on record—quarter, 0:33; half 1:05; three-quarters, 1:38; mile, 2:13. This beats Goldsmith half a second.

VALUABLE COW.—Mr. H. F. Judy, of Clark county, has just lost his Shorthorn cow Minerva 10th. He gave $124 for her six years ago, and has received over $2,000 for calves she has brought to him.

A Cloverport minister expected to begin a protracted meeting, but a snake bit him, a calf threw him and sprained his ankle, and a bull made a job of him. The meeting was indefinitely postponed.—True Kentuckian.

The largest farmer in California is Dr. Glenn of Colusa county. He farms 20,000 acres. He sold last year's wheat crop for more than $600,000. His farms are constantly being improved.

Mr. John M. Morris, who lives about three miles from this city, has recently cut and saved thirteen tons of timothy hay from six acres of meadow. Can the Blue Grass country or any other region beat that yield.—Hopkinsville News.

It is now quite safe to predict that Hopkinsville will sell 20,000 head of hogs of this season. That number is about eight thousand head in excess of the sales of any other season, and demonstrates the rapid growth and prosperity of our market.—New Era.

FRUIT MARKET.—Fine peaches, $2 per bushel; good, $1.50; badly packed, and chest boxes—big ones outside and little ones inside—50 cents per bushel. Which pays best? Good well assorted apples really being from $1.50 to $2 per barrel. Smooth peaches, $5 per barrel.—Home Journal.

JENKINS.—To get an item of news from our preachers and stock men with a few exceptions you have to enter them to some sequestered spot, draw a big revolver, place the grain inside to some place and threaten to pull the trigger. They will most generally under these circumstances tell you something, but not tell you they have looked all around, can see no help, and thinks it's tell or die.—(Richmond Register).

Hopkinsville.

REV. G. O. BARNES.

Notices are up to the effect that George O. Barnes will preach at Hopkinsville on Friday night, (9th inst.) at 7 o'clock.

Come and buy Mrs. Campbell's land—82 acres—adjoining town; first-class for grain or grass. Her town property is also for sale.

BURIALARY.

The store of J. C. Johnston (John don't sleep there now) was broken open on Monday night, the till robbed, some bacon abstracted, and probably other things, the loss of which has not been ascertained.

A PERFECT HIDE.

Every body scoffs this morning—some to the Springs, some to Somerset, some to the Danville Fair, and the rest, fired by Dr. Bohon's pictorial rumormongers, are catching mimos for a raid on Cumberland River.

THE "WANDERING JEW".

Passed along the streets just now, trundling a little wheelbarrow, and taking the bearings, with line and compass, of all our public and private peculiarities. Prune your trees in order that when he reaches Stanford he may be able to ascertain the locality of the town clock.

THE ELECTION.

We had a quiet, orderly election. Competition for the local offices was high, and most earnest work was done by the candidates and their friends, but no bad feeling was manifested. As it is necessary for all officials to reside at the metropolis, there is great regret in view of the probable removal of Judge Brown, Magistrate Hocker and Coroner Goode to Stanford. We console ourselves with the reflection that our loss will prove gain to you.

GARRARD COUNTY NEWS.

DANVILLE FAIR.

Those of us who do not mind heat or dust are at the Danville Fair this week.

PERSPECTIVE OF FILTHY LUCK.

Our young editor stands a fair chance of getting a small fortune—a modern version of "Bertram's right."

JUDGE LINDAV.

Was looking well at Danville last week. The pursuit of glory seems to have the mercury of Fahrenheit to a comfortable stand.

VACANCY FILLED.

Mr. Wm. R. Robinson has been appointed to fill the vacancy left by the death of Dr. Reid in the Directory of the National Bank.

WHEAT OPERATIONS.

From the quantity of wheat that is being bought up by our industrious agent, Mr. G. W. Betts, the prospect for flour is encouraging in quantity.

PRESENTED WITH PIANO.

Misses Mary Robinson and Fleece Cook have each received at the hands of indulgent parents a grand Piano, in reward for industry and success at school.

REWARDING THE SUCCESSFUL.

What is more something than for our successful Republican candidates to be aroused at midnight by the wailing strains of the Colored Cornet Band? Better a serenade than a cannonade!

JUST IN TIME.

The last will and testament of the late Allan A. Burton was written, or signed, only two days before his fatal seizure—a fact which, rumor says, will lead to a contest on the part of excluded relatives. But they can't complain that they are "left out in the cold" this month.

PROSPECTS FOR A BIG PAPER.

Our town has at various epochs sustained a newspaper of equal pretensions with her sister towns. Messrs. A. Blackwell Elkin and Melville Vaughan are endeavoring to raise funds to buy a Press for a second-class paper. This is a praiseworthy undertaking and should succeed.

A WIFE IN THE LAND OF FLOWERS.

It may not be known to some of your readers that Dr. Stephen L. Burdett a few weeks ago took unto himself a partner from the land of the flowers. His diet is doubtless love and oranges instead of "bread and cheese and kine." His record as a husband was written in shining characters upon the happy face of his first wife, so we can in all faith predict for him a home where discord is barred out. May his shattered health revive beneath the genial influence of Florida sunshine.

DEATH.

On Sunday afternoon the remains of Wm. Poort, of Bryantville, were brought to the Lancaster Cemetery for interment. He was the son of Mr. John W. Poort, and a youth who peculiarly enjoyed the devoted affection of his family because of his fine personal qualities. He spent last Winter in the Southern States in order to strengthen his constitution, and had been at home only one week from a pleasure trip with his sister to Indiana, when death snatched him from the family circle. There were appropriate services at the grave, with singing. The procession of carriages was the longest ever known here.

WEST TO THE CONVENTION.

On Tuesday morning the delegations from Garrard took their departure for the Somerset Convention, the Durham men to hold a caucus on the same evening. A Special Train was booked from Danville on Wednesday, and by this line your correspondent hoped to take flight; but it was not to be, so I cannot report the deliberations of that august body. Tidings were expected over the wires to-night, but nothing it yet known—whether a "dark horse" or a light runner is to be the Congressional agent. Judge Durham was very obliging on Sunday as he reported his Madison tour.

THE MICROPHONE AND PHONOGRAPH.

I have seen the telephone, have heard the microphone, and have listened in wonder to the marvelous revelations of the phonograph. On Tuesday evening Prof. Tobin, of Central University, came down to Lancaster and prepared the apparatus of these modern machines on the stage of the Hall. The weather was so intensely hot that the audience was much more respectable than large. The brief introductory lecture explained the mechanism of the sound waves by Tyndall's flame, a very interesting experiment. The ticking of a watch was magnified by the microphone to a shower of rocks. Then came the performance of the phonograph, which reproduced the imprisoned vibrations of Yankee Doodle that had been sung into it a month before. Various speeches, songs and sounds were spoken and sung and shouted into the ear of the automaton, which faithfully reproduced them all in return, upon reversing the cylinder of the record. Upon repeating the performance the instrument inferior to one of Edison's own manufacture; but the principle was sufficiently demonstrated to satisfy curiosity.

TURN TO YOUR LAST WEEK'S PAPER.

In my last letter, for "Indus" read "Solus."

THE ELECTION.

On Monday evening the labor of our weary, worn, lank, wretched candidates were brought to a close by the so-called "voice of the people," and the polls closed with but one Democratic victory. But that is considered a most brilliant achievement, and the breaking into the phalanx of the negro vote is likewise regarded as a step gained. At an early hour the enthusiastic mob were surging about the polls pelting each other in fist fights and wrangling according to their proud privilege. The usual yelling upon official returns from the several precincts resumed through out the day, and swelled into a continuous uproar towards night. Safely hidden from view, I saw the tumult, and recalled other days when no election day was properly christened without a baptism of blood. Drum-shops were closed and pistols concealed; but, after all, the records, if exposed, would reveal as much belligerence and treachery as if the laws purporting to govern the ballot had never been written. Where in political annals is a race as fair as that made by our Hon. "dist-road candidate" of the campaign of '77? He set an example worthy of all imitators. The result of the election is as follows: Wm. McKee Duncan, Rep. County Judge; J. Westley West, Rep. County Clerk; J. M. Higginbotham, Dem., Sheriff; H. C. Kain, Dem., County Attorney; Harrison Ray, Rep. County Assessor; Boston Dillon, Rep. Jailor; Wm. A. Arnold, Rep. Town Marshal; Daniel Miller, Rep. Coroner.

SAYING.

Tyly Duck Baites a Protest.

It seems from a clipping sent us from your paper, that there's a small "Tempest in a Teapot," among Hanes, Laurence, and Webb, P. M. at Mitchellburg, concerning the retention of the Danville Advocate for Nevada, in the Perryville office. Being a deputy in said office, we denounce the whole thing as malicious and false, and think it passing strange that the latter gentleman should have circulated his charges so very remote from home. He had best know, hereafter, whereof he speaks; although Dr. J. J. Folk, P. M. at Perryville, is slightly above suspicion cast by cross-road mud-throwers. We invite official investigation by the proper authorities, but not self-constituted detectives from intermediate points. "But small curs should not be regarded when they are baying." ULY DUCK, or E. B. POLK, Perryville, Aug. 5th, '78.
